matter upon our columns we are compelled to omit a variety of reading-matter prepared for this morning's issue. Astronomy.

According to modern rationalism, the earth is spherical, and Japan is right under this blessed country. We do not commit ourselves to this theory at all; for, according to the highest orthodox authority, the earth is flat; and we are determined that whatever other failings there may be in the DATLY PRESS, there shall be no flexibility in its orthodoxy. "It pays," as John Unit (Mr. Lanagan, and a very good Lanagan, too,) says in the play; "yes, sir, it pays." It realizes as you go along, and is an excellent thing to fall back on. As St. Paul savs, it gives a double portion in this life, and all the future chances. [This quotation is not verbatim, owing to the want of a Bible in this concern, all of ours having been sent to the Pottawattomies; but it contains the Scriptural spirit, of which there is no lack here, as our readers will bear witness.]

As we were about to observe, Japan, according to profane philosophy, is right opposite to us on the globe. It is probable that a hole sunk straight from our City Hail would come out in the imperial palace at Jeddo: and considering the uncommon douth to which the City Council has accustomed us, the idea seems by no means absurd. But original force permentes the earth without nny hole. So, probably, do ideas; for we find that ideas and all the passions and infirmities of human nature are just as eternal as the original elements. They are changed in form, but developed in some shape. Can not human nature enjoy the same propensities under any profession which it may take on? Of course it can, and make virtues of them. What an encouragement that is to be good! By this time we trust we have established a direct communication with Japan. Some of our readers may not see it, but they will. Japan was for centuries renowned for its exclusiveness. It has recently been converted by an expedition from this free and enlightened country. Commodore Perry showed them how Providence had smiled on us, under a system of universal exchange, and Japan threw open her ports, and became civilized all at once. But ideas are never annihilated. The Japanese notion went into the ground and came out into the bosom of our City Council-perhaps we should say the bowels of the City Council, they being regarded by the ancients as the seat of the sentiments. They are often referred to by St. Paul in that sense, and we wish the Passs to be rigidly orthodox on all

The debate on Wednesday night, on the proposition to permit a steam passenger-car from Philadelphia to be tried on the Pendleton Road, could not have been more Japanese in its spirit if the Nokamis themselves had come through by the internal route and taken possession of the City Council. The Pendleton Company asked leave for a couple of Philadelphia men to run their car, between the hours of 11 oclock P. M. and 4 A. M., offering a guarrantee against all damage that might be committed by experimenting on the streets during these ghostly hours. The following specimens of the debate, taken from the reports in the city papers, will show the spirit of the City Countoward progress, and toward improve ments from abroad:

"Mr. Hirst spoke very earnestly against the resolution. If these gentlemen could not get the privilege of running their car in Philadelphia, where they live, they should not come here.

"Mr. Glass opposed the resolution. Let the Philadelphians try their inventions at home, and if found to succeed, let them be Mr. Stokes said that the machine was invented by two young men who were poor and Mr. Kilgour had agreed to bear a por tion of the expense. They only asked the same privilege granted to Mr. Latta. "Mr. Eggleston made an ironical allusion to these 'poor young men,' and thought they had better keep their invention at home, till perfected. He thought if these 'poor young men' ran their machine for six months, they would need some pecuniary assistance be-fore they got through, as they would not be largely patronized.

"Mr. Stokes said it had been found successful in Philadelphia.

"Mr. Eggleston-Then let them keep it there and profit by it; they don't need to bring it here."

"Mr. Whitson tavored the resolution, and after remarks by Mr. Moore against it, a vote was taken on the resolution, and it received only four votes in its favor."

They could not have done that better in Japan, ten years ago. As Americans converted the Japanese, they ought to return the favor, and send a mission to convert our City Council. The spirit of exclusiveness has been cast out of the Japanese, and seems to have sought the same refuge as those spirits which were east out of the lunatic in Scripture. No allusion at all to the porkpacking business! merely to the penning-up of the City Council.

Arresting the Permentation of Cider.

There are many recipes for this purpose. A little common sense will teach any one that to stop the fermentation by any chemical preparation, is merely to kill the cider. If any want to reduce it to a senseless compound, unfit for man or beast, let them try these recipes. Otherwise, let their eider ferment in the cellar, and when it settles, draw it off into a fresh barrel, and they can have palatable cider the year round. If it is too hard for their palate, a preparatory course of Rhine-wine will make it seem very mild as parties to the fraud, and pleasant.

Good for Militerites. A patent medicine proposes to feed the blood with a combination of iron, phosphorus and sulphur. After a course of this pyrutechnic compound, salight friction with sandpaper would probably set a person off into the sky like a rocket. Looking for More Worlds to Conquer. Hon. Samuel Galloway, fresh from his contest with Cox, is stumping in Illinois.

MR. Upolino Wolfe, the originator of the gin dodge, by which topers were all to be supplied with their tipple in medicine bottles, at a very handsome extra sharge for the mythical character given it, is the Tammany candidate for Congress in one of the city districts in New York.
